PROJECT OVERVIEW

Bison Discovery Center is a nonprofit organization overseeing museum operations, educational programming, visitor experiences, fundraising, retail activities, and the care of its bison herd.

With multiple operational functions and competing organizational priorities, the Executive Director needed reliable executive support and a stronger infrastructure for managing responsibilities across the organization.

Your Virtual Admin Expert (YVAE) partnered with Bison Discovery Center to strengthen daily operations, improve organizational oversight, and support the Executive Director in managing the growing demands of leadership.

THE CHALLENGE

01

Too many responsibilities depended on one executive and too much organizational information lived in her head.

The Executive Director was managing responsibilities across staff leadership, operations, board relations, fundraising, and organizational development.

Without a consistent system for monitoring assignments, tracking progress, and documenting expectations, she was often left mentally managing the status of organizational work.

Staff roles and responsibilities needed greater definition, operational processes lacked consistency, and leadership had limited visibility into whether commitments were being completed.

These challenges made delegation more difficult, complicated performance management, and consumed valuable executive attention that could otherwise be directed toward organizational priorities.

Bison Discovery Center needed an administrative and operational partner capable of strengthening its internal systems while providing the executive-level support necessary to keep the organization moving forward.

02

Connecting executive support with practical operational improvements.

YVAE provided an integrated approach that combined hands-on executive administration with operational consulting and staff development.

CENTRALIZED WORK MANAGEMENT

YVAE implemented a structured Teamwork project-management environment, organizing priority work across organizational functions and establishing a more consistent method for assigning, monitoring, and updating responsibilities.

OPERATIONAL PROCESSES & ACCOUNTABILITY STANDARDS

YVAE developed standardized processes for communicating organizational changes, documenting meeting outcomes, clarifying decision-making authority, and escalating matters requiring leadership attention.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT & ROLE CLARIFICATION

YVAE worked with leadership to clarify staff responsibilities, strengthen meeting and reporting expectations, and provide individualized coaching and development guidance to support more effective execution.

STRATEGIC EXECUTIVE SUPPORT

YVAE supported the Executive Director through inbox and calendar management, priority coordination, meeting preparation, board-related administration, and ongoing operational consultation.

This combined administrative and strategic support helped maintain continuity across competing responsibilities.

THE RESULT & TRANSFORMATION

03

The organization began moving from executive-dependent operations toward greater visibility, accountability, and shared responsibility.

1 Greater Operational Visibility & Accountability

The Executive Director gained a clearer understanding of what was happening across the organization, who was responsible for specific work, and which commitments required attention.

This reduced the mental burden of trying to remember the status of every responsibility. More importantly, it gave leadership a stronger basis for evaluating staff performance and holding team members accountable for their work.

2 Stronger Staff Ownership & Organizational Capacity

Staff responsibilities became more clearly defined, and team members received additional guidance to strengthen their ability to manage assigned work.

These improvements established a foundation for more consistent performance expectations and increased ownership, allowing the organization to develop internal capabilities rather than relying exclusively on executive intervention.

3 Strengthened Executive Support & Leadership Capacity

The Executive Director gained an ongoing administrative and operational partner who could help manage competing priorities, maintain coordination, and support critical leadership responsibilities.

With dedicated support behind executive operations, the organization was better positioned to maintain continuity across daily demands while the Executive Director focused on staff leadership, organizational challenges, and mission-driven priorities.

IN THE CLIENT'S WORDS

"The biggest value that you have provided is that you have been able to give me the tools to make the operations visible."

"That whole visibility ... it's like a game changer."

THE YVAE IMPACT

04

The greatest value of the partnership was not simply getting administrative work done. It was giving executive leadership the ability to see the work, assess progress, and establish accountability.

By combining strategic executive support with operational expertise, YVAE helped Bison Discovery Center establish the foundation for stronger internal management and more sustainable leadership.

The engagement illustrates why executive support should not be viewed simply as an administrative expense. When paired with the right operational systems and strategic guidance, it becomes an essential part of an organization's leadership infrastructure.

Because the goal of effective executive support isn't to make the leader responsible for doing more. It's to strengthen the organization so everything doesn't depend on the leader.
